Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Sunday 26 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
A change to more unsettled weather is expected this week.

This Evening and Tonight:
Dry through the evening and much of the night with some clear spells at first. However, strengthening winds and outbreaks of locally heavy rain will spread from the west by dawn. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Monday:
Windy conditions with outbreaks of locally heavy rain will clear away east in the morning, with sunny spells and scatted showers by afternoon. Feeling much fresher than of late. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Showers or longer spells of rain on Tuesday after a fine and dry start. Windy on Wednesday with rain or showers clearing east, then further rain spreading east on Thursday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.